THE DROVE.

The drove of cattle slowly wends
  Its way the country road along,
Beneath a sky that o'er them bends,
  Inspiring monodies of song,
In keeping with the sober guise
  That nature in her woodly deeps
Wears, losing all her guady dyes
  As with the equinox she weeps.

The lowing cow that leads the drove
  Seems like a line of Latin verse;
The bull stalks like a bridled Jove,
  With the advance, to glee averse,
Quite undisturbed by e'en the shrew
  Behind—the terror of the fold—
Whose horns awake to quaint ado
  The Jersey of such graceful mold.

What deep contentment in the group
  That in the water stand hoof-deep,
Unmindful of the lash or whoop;
  What joy in this young creature's leap!
And yonder one with head erect,
  And ears set forward, fain would know
What from this stir she may expect;
  And on, with sturdy move and slow.

Come others, while, against the sky
  A horseman rides in silhouette,
Whose lazy motions seems to vie
  With cattle's moods, that naught may fret.
The footman, too, with measured stride,
  The mastiff, with himself content,
And with his charge quite satisfied—
  All with the scenes are merged and blent.

And so life opens to our view
  A sylvan scene, not once, but oft,
Where everything a blending hue
  Assumes beneath an air so soft,
A bland that thoughts of strife and toil,
  And strong effects that passion gives,
And fierce, theatrical turmoil,
  Are lost in life that dreams, not lives.

For is the life that dreams less true
  Than that which lives its lurid truths?
  Are Autumn's skies of ghostly hue
Less true than those of May and youth's
The strong effects of youthful days
  Have not their lessons truly taught
If age loves not to rest and gaze
  On scenes with peace and quiet fraught.

A Lesson to Young Men.

In the nomination of James A. Garfield, for President at the recent Chicago Convention, a lesson is taught from which all young men may profit. It may not be possible for every youth, be he ever so industrious and studious, to obtain a nomination for President of the United States, but by untiring industry and a persistent determination to acquire an education, as illustrated in the life of General Garfield, summarized by one of our cotemporaries, it is possible for every young man of ordinary intelligence, be his origin ever so humble, to elevate himself to an honorable position in life.

After eulogizing General Garfield's military and political career, which it is not our province to discuss, the Public Ledger proceeds to say of his early life:

And what he is he has made himself, so far as any man is the builder of his own character, distinction and honors. Left an orphan when he was but two years old, his widowed mother with four children, being the possessor of a small farm in the "backwoods" of Ohio, he began to work as soon as he was old enough to aid in the support of the family. At sixteen he was a carpenter's boy; then driver of a canal boat, and subsequently a boatman, though not a man in years. He then intended to become a sailor on the lakes, but being persuaded by a young village teacher, he went to Geauga Seminary, and this turned the whole current of his life. Here the sturdy character of the future man showed itself. He had no money; except a very small sum his mother had saved. He and some others took a room and boarded themselves in a very abstemious fashion, being their own cooks. In the mornings and late afternoons he turned his hand to carpentering, and so supported himself. Continuing at the seminary, and at one of the country institutes, he kept himself going in the same way, varying his carpentering resources with teaching school in the Winter, until he was twenty-three, and on his way to college, where he went through a two year term, came out the best Latin and Greek scholar, and was soon made professor and president of another academical institution.

KEEP YOUNG.—Don't grow old and rusty and cross, afraid of nonsense and fun. Tolerate the follies and crudities of youth. Gray hairs and wrinkles you cannot escape, but you need not grow old in feeling unless you choose. And as long as your age is only on the outside you will win confidence from the young, and find your life is all the brighter for contact with theirs. but you have too many grave thoughts, too many weighty anxieties and duties, too much to do to make this trifling possible, you say. The very reason, my friend, why you should cultivate fun, nonsense, lightness of heart—because you need them so much, because you are "weary with thinking." Then do try to be young, even if you have to be foolish in so doing. One cannot be wise all the time.

When an office-hunter puts himself into the hands of friends, and his friends don't set him down before a woodpile and a sawbuck, they are not doing their duty—not by a long shot.

When a boy has a gold watch presented to him he will cheerfully travel two miles to regulate it in the presence of his enemies.—Andrews' Bazaar.

A financial crash cannot be worked up into towels.

The Decay of Revenge.

Modern revenge, except among the lower classes, has almost declined into a state of momentary morbid feeling. Some one injures our vanity, and we feel that we could say very disagreeable things about his pictures, poems or personal appearance. We do not say them, and there is an end of the matter. It is difficult even to wish that misfortunes should befall our critics or successful competitors. What good would it do us if the investment of Jones, who has maligned us, proved unsound, or if his house were burned down? Obviously none at all. The mere idea of revenge, in modern society, is what logicians call an ignoratio elenchi—a wandering from the question at issue. There is something actually illogical, as well as something mean and personal, in the theory of revenge. Our wrongs are not redressed by the sufferings of the wrongdoer. Even political rivals feel this. What circumstances have produced this great change in human character? Has Christianity subdued vindictiveness? have men become poor of spirit? or do the arrangements of modern life permit a certain noble disdain of self, and a kind of inborn good temper to have their way? probably the latter cause has been the most effective. The law is powerful enough to redress most of the important injuries, and men do not need (except in the case of gambling debts), to take the law in their own hands. People have also ceased to do each other much harm. A man's enemies are content to call him a puppy, or an ass, behind his back, or to honor him by underhand attacks in society journal.

If these things once seem to deserve the stab, they now appear scarcely worth the notice of a momentary spleen. In other ways people are too busy to plot each other's injury, or to contrive schemes of revenge. "The pace is too good to inquire." Modern life is so rapid that we don't even ask why Baggs is our enemy; still less cast about for means of injuring Baggs. Indeed, the bare idea of an enemy is ridiculous and breathes of the decadent melodrama. Only the returned convict in the noval says, "Oh! you enemy," and gnashes his teeth. People are aware, too, that if they injured a man in earnest, merely because he had wronged them, they would suffer from a reaction of pity. And old as the passion of revenge is, the reaction of pity must be nearly as ancient. There is a well authenticated story of an Australian black fellow, who was allowed by native practice to beat another man who had robbed him. The savage gave one blow on the head of the thief, and then, when the blood flowed, he burst into tears, embraced and rubbed noses with the enemy. Revenge is based upon a sense of the importance of ourselves and our rights, and it naturally declines when the infrequency of wrong and the uniform action of law give free scope to a wider view of the world and a lower estimate of self. Perhaps the believers in progress—a sect whose faith is sorely tried—can find no better evidence for their creed than the decline of revenge. That vengeance is sweet was once a truism and is scarcely any longer true.—Pall Mall Gazette.

Growing Old.

Do the young people ever think that they will be old, that they will soon feel that the grasshopper is a burden and fear in the way? Only a few short years ago that aged man and feeble woman were young, strong, and full of life; their loving tenderness and care for the little ones, who now stand in their places. Do not jostle that aged couple out of your pathway, but rather lift them with tender care over the rough, declining road. You may have forgotton how carefully they kept your tender feet from tumbling, and with what care they watched your advancing steps. But they have not forgotten, and the time will come when you will be forcibly reminded of it by the love you have for your own little ones. Will they ever hand you the same bitter cup to drink that you pour out for that aged father and stricken mother? Verily, 'with what measure ye meet, it shall be measured to you again.' Think of the anxious days and nights your mother has watched by your sick bed; remember her loving tears, her patience and long-suffering with your fretfulness, and then the blush of shame dye your brow that you should be impatient or unkind to her now that she is old. Old folks are such a trial! Yes, they know it, they feel it: and so will you be such a trial to your children in the days that will surely come—ay, and you will remember, too!

MARKS OF THE GENTLEMAN.—No man is a gentleman who, without provocation, would treat with incivility the humblest of his species. It is a vulgarity for which no accomplishments of dress or address can ever atone. Show me the man who desires to make every one happy around him, and whose greatest solicitude is never to give just cause of offence to any one, and I will show you a gentleman by nature and by practice, though he may never have worn a suit of broadcloth, nor never heard of a lexicon. I am proud to say for the honor of our species, there are men, in every throb of whose heart there is solicitude for the welfare of mankind, and whose every breath is perfumed with kindness.

FIRST CLIENT.—Dinner party at a rich bourgeois' house. Prosperous advocate, recounting his career: "When I took my first brief, I was excited and nervous, especially as my client was a consumate scoundrel—a bad egg in any way you took him. But then I was beginning my practice. He was a man of good family, the reputation of which would have been fatally tarnished had he been convicted; so I took the case and got the rascal off. After dinner enters an important personage great friend of the host, who presents the lawyer to him. Great personage patronizingly: "I do not need to be introduced to this Election, Tuesday, November 2, 1880.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

WASHINGTON, D. C. July 13th, 1880.

There is a serious charge made against General Hancock in connection with the election of 1876, when the Democratic party came so near depriving the Republicans of the fruits of their great victory. The charge is not denied by General Hancock, and is even admitted by his most intimate friend, General William F. Smith. It is that Hancock was ready and waiting Tilden's consent, only, to place himself at the head of an insurrection to place Tilden in the Presidential chair. They even went so far as to write a letter to General Sherman declaring his belief that Tilden was elected, and that should he take the oath of office, he should obey Tilden's orders, and disregard those of the constituted authorities. This is the story that was circulated secretly among the delegates at Cincinnati and caused the stampede to him. It was only then that they were made acquainted with the true qualities of their man, and it appears that the cry "he will take his seat" is not without foundation. They knew their man, and as they voted for him they reasoned, if he was so ready and willing to fight for the assumed rights of another would he not do as much and more for himself, under the same conditions? And to the Democratic party, whose only chance for success is in the perpetration of fraud, and the manipulation of returns he seemed their most fitting tool. If they become satisfied they cannot win the coming election fairly, they will endeavor to make it "doubtful," and if this is accomplished they cry "he will take his seat."

But this is not all. How many soldiers have not heard of the "United Service Petroleum and Mining Company," and how many soldiers put confidence and money in it because General Hancock was its President, supposing because he was the "Company" it was an honest one. There is no proof that Hancock had knowledge of the swindle, but he was either so dull or so careless that he allowed the prostitution of his name and rank as Major General in the army to the vile purposes of fraud, to say nothing of his lack of precaution against the swindling of his friends. Would not a man who at forty was capable of such a performance, make a mess of running this government—if he takes his seat.

The Democrats are making large promises at this time of carrying doubtful States, Maine and New Hampshire are now considered "doubtful." Senator Blaine is resting himself at the Virginia Springs, and Wm. E. Chandler is yet in New York arranging the campaign. When these prominent men reach home and get to work the fur will fly, and I doubt not that heavy Republican majorities will be rolled up in those States.

Alexander H. Stephens is the most conservative Democrat of the age. He foretold the calamitous result of the extra session, and he now foretells the result of the Democratic slandering of Garfield. He says "I believe he (Garfield) was altogether innocent of the charges against him. It will not do for the Democratic party to throw mud at Garfield, because if they do they will elect him." This is a good prophesy, and will come true in November.

MAXWELL.

ASSEMBLYMAN.

As the time is approaching for the nomination of an Assemblyman for Mono and Inyo, and as the Republicans of Inyo expect to have the naming of the candidate for this position, we respectfully suggest that they nominate Hon. Jo. Wasson. Mr. Wasson has done much to keep the Inyo county mines before the mining world and is as much interested in the future of that country as of any other, and as we have tried him once and found him a faithful representative, let us try him again, now that he has got used to the harness. He worked hard for the mining interests of the State in the last Legislature, and accomplished much good, and undoubtedly prevented legislation that would have been ruinous to the mining industries of California. When a district or county secures a faithful, intelligent representative of its interests, it is good policy to keep such a man in the public service as long as possible, and as long as he will stand in the traces. It takes one session of the Legislature for a man to get the "hang of the house," and it is bad policy to put in a new man every session. If Mr. Wasson will accept a nomination for re-election there is no man in the opposition ranks able to beat him at the polls. We respectfully make this suggestion to the Republicans of Inyo and Mono, and hope it will be acted on favorably.—Bridgeport Union.

Ground was broken in Sacramento on Thursday by the Central Pacific Railroad Company for their new rolling mills.

General Grant, in an interview at Manitou, Colorado, said that General Garfield was the man for the Presidential office, and he would give him his hearty support.

REPUBLICAN CONVENTION.

The action of the State Central Committee, making the apportionment of delegates to the next Republican State Convention on the Hayes & Wheeler vote has caused much feeling here, as Mono county is giving but one delegate when her Republican vote entitles her to at least five, and there is a disposition among some of the party to let the matter go by default and allow Mono to be unrepresented in the Convention to be held at Sacramento on the 11th of August. We see no good reason for the Committee to take the Hayes vote in calling this Convention, but as it has done so and the apportionment made, we see no remedy. If the Committee make a change in regard to this county it might be called upon to make other changes. Consequently we will have to make the most of the present situation and rest easy until another State Convention is held, where Mono will have her full representation.

We do not like to see any "bucking" in the ranks for so trivial a matter as this. We have an important fight on hand and we should be united and show no outward sign of discontent or dissatisfaction, as was the case at the club meeting on Monday last. We trust that all such feelings will be smothered, and that Mono county will be duly represented in the Convention.

A Democratic paper in Marshaltown, Iowa, says:

"Why don't you buy a power press?" inquired several enthusiastic Democrats as we were taking our locked up pages of type through the streets on a wheelbarrow to a steam printing press owned by a rich printing firm. Why don't we buy the Broadman House, Woodbury block, and the public square? Why don't we raise h—ll on four dollars and a half? It is easy to do all these things, provided you have the collateral, but at the present writing we confess we have not enough money to buy a cheese press. Printing Democratic newspapers in Iowa is like peddling peanuts in a graveyard.

The above is the experience of Democratic newspapers generally.

The Greenback State Convention met in San Francisco on Wednesday. There were about forty delegates present. What a farce.

It is thought that Nevada has a population of about 65,000. That's a heavy State.

A Butte county Justice of the Peace is in trouble. He married a couple on the presentation of a license issued in Yuba county. The license cannot be recorded in the latter, and no authority having been obtained for the nuptials in Butte county, the officials there have no right to record it.

It costs $3 50 a ton to transport granite from Placer county to the foot of Market street, Oakland, and the cost of shipping granite from the State of Maine to San Francisco is $4 per ton.

LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

TOWN-SITE SURVEY.—About the first of next month Surveyor Scowden will file plat of the town-site survey of Bodie. Upon its being filed, Judge R. M. Briggs will open an office here and receive applications for the sale of town lots, which will probably take three months to accomplish. Applicants will be required to state the number of lot and block, and have on the application a diagram of the premises with its abbutals. The payments will be $1 50 for one-eighth of an acre or less, $5 for general expenses, $2 for deed, and fifty cents for acknowledgment—a total of $9. Upon the expiration of six months, deeds will be given, provided an adverse claim is not filed. Adverse claims can be settled by the Judge, upon stipulation, or by the Superior Court.

MORE COMPANIES.—Articles of incorporation have been filed with the Secretary of State of the Union Consolidated Mining Company, to carry on a general mining business in the Bodie mining district. The Directors are C. P. Chapman, W. H. Secor and F. E. Loud; the capital stock is $1,500,000. Also the Sycamore Consolidated Mining Company. The principal place of business is in San Francisco, the capital stock $100,000, and the Directors are as follows: James Teaff, S. H. Mather, C. E. Gillett, C. Gerrman and A. L. Byron.

CORRECT TIME.—Through the enterprise Bodie's well-known jeweler and watchmaker, L. Hollander, the people of Bodie are at last favored with the correct time—if they are not it is not his fault, as he and the Sun have a confab every noon, and at precisely 12 o'clock the fire bell is tapped 12 times to denote the true time. If our hoisting works would now fall into line and all "toot" at once it would be another blessing.

MURDER TRIALS.—The trials of the prisoners indicted for murder by the late Grand Jury will be commenced in the Superior Court on Monday next, the 26th. As a large number of jurymen has been summoned to try these cases Bodie will miss many familiar faces next week, and on Monday we presume the road to Bridgeport will be perfectly blue from the "cussing" that will be indulged in by those meandering towards the Capital of Mono.

FIRE.—Our citizens were routed from their peaceful slumbers about 3 o'clock yesterday morning by the clanging of the fire-bell, caused by the burning of an outhouse on Bonanza street. The most damage was done to the feelings of our people, who were disturbed of their rest at that early hour. The fire department was promptly on the ground.

A GIVE AWAY.—The News gives as an excuse for not publishing the Grand Jury report, that it was unnecessary as the Free Press had already done so! This is the worst "give away" we ever knew a paper to be guilty of. It was a virtual acknowledgement that the News has no subscribers or readers that do not take or read the Free Press.

FRUIT.—Grapes have appeared in the Sacramento market, and will soon be in our Bodie markets. Bodie is a good market for fruit, and large quantities are sold daily. Peaches were on sale here before any were received in Carson. Our markets are well supplied with peaches, plums, apples, blackberries and everything in season.

START ONE.—We have in Bodie, lodges of Masons, Odd Fellows, Knights of Pythias, A. O. U. W., but no Red Men, except the native born. Why don't somebody organize a Stamm of the Independent Order of Red Men? And then a Good Templar Lodge. Let Bodie have a slice of everything in the line of independent orders of a charitable or benevolent character.

FINE FURNITURE.—H. Ward, whose advertisement will be found under "New To-day," has been enlarging his store and otherwise improving it, and now has as large and fine a stock of furniture as can be found anywhere outside of San Francisco. Mr. Ward has, also, a fine stock of undertaking goods, and is prepared to take charge of interments.

THE CHAMPION.—This popular Chop House has changed hands, M. G. Murray having taken the house. Mr. Walsh is assisting in its management, and it will be kept up to the high standard for which it has been noted while under Mr. Walsh's managment. A fine dinner here to-morrow (Sunday).

CONCERT.—The Bodie Sunday School will give a concert at the new Odd Fellows' Hall, next to Miners' Union Hall, to-morrow evening at 8 o'clock. All are invited.

SUSPENDED.—On Tuesday last the Bodie Standard was issued for the last time. The News, having purchased its good-will, on Wednesday appeared as the Standard-News.

ACCIDENT.—Mrs. Joseph Baker had two fingers blown from her right hand by a giant-cap explosion, at Lundy, yesterday.

BELVIDERE.—The Syndicate Mill is going to crush Belvidere ore. A good return will give the stock a boom.

For chickens, go to Gibson's, in Union Market Building.

COMING TO THE FRONT.—The shootists have taken a back seat, and the burglars have come to the front. This week a number of burglaries have occurred in this vicinity. The most extensive haul being at Madam Peabody's on upper Main street, where some $500 worth of booty was got away with.

A CHAIN GANG.—The Board of Supervisors have the power to institute the chain gang system. Why not have an institution of the kind in Bodie. There is plenty of material here for a good one, and it would be a good way to make some of the evil-doers seek new pastures which they would do rather than get into a chain gang.

SELLING CHEAP.—L. Hollander, our jeweler, is selling off his fine stock of jewelry, watches, etc., at very low prices, as he proposes to go East. He sells no shoddy jewelry, and his watches are just what he represents them to be. He has a splendid stock and takes pleasure in exhibiting it, whether one buys or not.

SCHOOL.—On Tuesday last the Public school opened under the management of B. R. Foss, Principal, and Miss Hayden and Mrs. Donnelly, Assistants. There were 240 pupils in attendance. As there are 500 scholars in the census list, at least two additional teachers will be required within the next three months.

FRESH FRUITS.—Go to E. F. Gibson's fruit store, Union Market, above the Post office, and supply yourself with fresh peaches, plums, blackberries, and all kinds of fresh vegetables. To-morrow (Sunday) morning, he will receive a fresh lot of fruits of every kind in the Sacramento market.

TOO MANY DOGS.—Dog poisoning is becoming fashionable in Virginia City. It would be a good thing for Bodie if some means could be devised for ridding this city of about nine-tenths of its dog population—and then there would be enough left.

CHOKED TO DEATH.—Yesterday evening, Thomas McGovern, a native of New York, aged 60 years, met his death by being choked with a piece of meat lodging in his windpipe. The body was taken charge of by H. Ward, at whose undertaking rooms a post-mortem examination was held.

CAN CAN.—At the Can Can Restaurant to-morrow (Sunday) afternoon there will be a fine dinner served up. Ice cream, and other "goodies" all for 50 cents.

ASSESSOR.—Assessor Welch announces in another column that he is a candidate for re-nomination.

BOARD OF SUPERVISORS.—The Board will meet in regular session on next Monday week—August 2d.

JOLLY BROTHERS.—The "Jolly Brothers" will meet at the Carsonian to-morrow (Sunday) evening at 8 o'clock.

NOT LOSING.—The popular opinion that the mining counties have been falling off in population since 1870 seems not to be sustained by the census returns. Tuolumne only has shown material loss. Many counties report a decided increase. A general review shows that the mining sections have prospered, so far as population numbers indicate prosperity, and establishes the fact that legitimate mining industries have kept pace with most others in California.—Sacramento Record-Union.

William Gill was caved on in the Idaho mine at Grass Valley Friday night and received probably fatal injuries.

REPORT OF GRAND JURY.

BRIDGEPORT, MONO COUNTY, CAL., July 15th, 1880.

To the HON. M. P. WIGGIN, Judge of the Superior Court of Mono County, Cal:

We, the Grand Jury for Mono County, impaneled for the July term of the Superior Court held in and for said county, A. D. 1880, respectfully, submit to your Honor our final report:

First, in the course of our deliberations and investigations, we have had under consideration the cases of all persons in the County Jail, as well as of those at liberty upon bonds charged with felony. We have found seven indictments for murder in the first degree. We have ignored two bills where the crime charged was murder. We have found two true bills where the crime charged was an assault to commit murder. We ignored one bill where the crime charged was an assault to commit murder. We have found one true bill where the crime charged was receiving and purchasing stolen property, knowing the same to be stolen. We have had under our consideration four cases of grand larceny; the bills in said cases were all ignored. We have made a careful examination and inspection of the books and accounts and general management of your county officers and as thoroughly as our limited time would permit, in view of the accumulated criminal matter that was brought to our notice from said examination. We collate from our sub-committee report the following facts:

That they made a careful examination of the mode and manner in which the books in the County Clerk's and Auditor's office are kept, and the Committee have to say that the said books are being kept correctly, neatly and in a business-like manner. We also find the balances to the credit of the different funds to be as follows:

To Swamp Land Fund	$4676 29
State	6959 87
General	651 37
Salary	2522 67
Current Expense	181 26
Hospital	2174 44
Road	2352 89
School	5459 56
Contingent Expense	69 15
Interest on Road Bonds	252 42
Auditor's Commission	163 22
Alpine Warrants	559 65
State School Lands	923 75
Total in the hands of the County Treasurer	$27,288 5

The sub-committee appointed by our foreman to examine the books and accounts of the Treasurer of the county report most favorably as to the mode and business-like manner in which the Treasurer's books are kept. They also report a sum of $27,283 54 in the hands of the Treasurer, which tallies evenly with the amounts as shown by the Auditor's report.

That the total indebtedness of the county amounts to $44,6993 05—$23,693 05 upon the General Fund and $20,000 in Bridgeport, Antelope and Benton Road Bonds—the interest on said bonds up to July 1st being $1,000.

The committee appointed to examine the books of the Sheriff's and District Attorney's offices report that they find the books in each office correct.

The sub and joint committees appointed by our foreman to examine the Bodie Hospital and Jail report as follows in respect to the latter institution: The jail we find to be entirely too small to accommodate the prisoners. We also find the strength of the walls to be insufficient for their safe keeping. The cells are poorly ventilated, and we would recommend that there be an extension of 14x14 with hall connecting with keeper's room in front and with a door at the rear to afford ventilation for the cells, which should open into the hall. We also recommend that the jail be enclosed by a fence twelve feet high, inclosing yard the width now under fence, and to extend 24 feet back of the back end of the new addition, to afford room for the exercise of prisoners. We find the food good and wholesome, and the prisoners entirely satisfied. The books are well, neatly and correctly kept. We recommend to the Honorable Board of Supervisors to take immediate action in the premises.

In respect to the County Jail the committee appointed by our foreman reported as follows: We find that the prisoners are treated by all the officers in a humane manner, and the jail, etc., is kept clean and neat. We find the food of the prisoners as provided by the contractor unsuitable for any human being to eat. The Grand Jurors being impressed with the urgency of the situation, it was unanimously ordered that Wm. A. Loose, one of the Board of Supervisors, be instructed to inform J. C. Swope, the contractor, whose duty it was to furnish good and wholesome and sufficient quantity of food to the prisoners in the County Jail, that the Grand Jury consider that he had broken his contract. Furthermore, it was ordered that Wm. A. Loose, one of our Supervisors, should annul said contract and employ some one to furnish board to the prisoners until the next meeting of the Board of Supervisors. The Grand Jury thereupon furnished the said Loose with written authority to carry out their resolution. In accordance with the action taken by the Grand Jury we have been informed that the said Wm. A. Loose has carried into effects the resolution of the Grand Jury, and that the prisoners are now being well fed and carefully cared for. We therefore recommend to the Board of Supervisors at their next meeting that they take the matter in hand and make such regulations as shall appear to them most suitable and proper.

The Sub and Joint Committee appointed to examine into the affairs of the hospital and branch jail at Bodie reports in respect to the hospital that it is clean and kept in good condition, and the food good and wholesome, that general satisfaction is given by the management to the indigent sick. The register is well kept and the entries and discharges are being faithfully recorded.

In the matter of supplying the Public Administrator with suitable books for his office we recommend to our Board of Supervisors that they instruct their Clerk to procure a suitable book or books for the Public Administrator.

In the matter of the removal of Smith Homer, Justice of the Peace for Homer township, for misconduct in office, we would recommend that the District Attorney take immediate steps to that end.

In the matter of our late County Assessor, J. W. Stewart, the attention of the Grand Jury was called to his books and accounts, and after a careful examination of said books and those of the Auditor, we find a discrepancy of $500. We therefore recommend that the District Attorney take immediate action in the premises.

A special committee having been appointed by our foreman to examine and look into the dockets kept by Justices R. L. Peterson and Thomas Newman of Bodie Township, the committee so appointed reported that they found nothing to complain of, and that entries in dockets were properly made, and the business of their courts appeared to the committee, from their examination, properly conducted. In regard to Justices of the Peace, we find great irregularity and great misapprehensions. For instance: All the Justices have and are paying themselves and officers out of the fines collected generally, and merely give a balance every quarter to the county, and have so far always brought the county in debt. We also find this practice is demoralizing and an inducement to the imposition of heavy fines. There are but one or two honorable exceptions to this rule. We would request the Board of Supervisors to instruct the District Attorney to strictly enforce Sections 427 and 1457 of the Criminal Practice Act, which refer to the duties of magistrates in respect to the disposition made of moneys collected by way of fines.

In relation to the County Road Overseer we would respectfully call the attention of Board of Supervisors to section 2650 of the amended Political Code of 1880, and particularly to the sixth sub-division of said section; also to section 2688 of the amended Code of 1880.

As regards the opening of the county road, which has been heretofore laid out and surveyed, commencing at Mr. Sidney Huntoon's house, running thence westerly to Mr. William Elliott's place, we would recommend to the Board of Supervisors that they, at their earliest convenience, should have the said road opened up for the traveling public.

We would further recommend to the notice of the Board of Supervisors that they would consider the propriety of repairing and putting in a condition suitable for the traveling public, commencing at or near the top of Cottonwood hill to Huntoon's milk ranch on Cottonwood Creek, the same being a county road, the Grand Jury believing that said road when repaired would be a great convenience to the public generally.

It having come to the knowledge of the Grand Jury that the Bridgeport and Little Walker Wagon Road, being an incorporation, fail to keep their road in that repair which is required by their charter, we recommend to our County Road Overseer the duties required of him by Sections 2829 and 2830 of the Political Code.

It having been brought to our notice that there is a pressing necessity for the building of a branch jail at the town of Lundy, it was resolved to refer the matter to the Board of Supervisors to act in the premises, according to their best judgment.

The Grand Jury, upon examining the books in the Clerk's office, found the costs in two several civil cases, to wit; The case of Seehorn against the Big Meadows and Bodie Wagon Road Co., and the case of the Noonday Mining Co. against the Live Yank Mining Co., were taxed against the county. The Grand Jury, after obtaining the best legal advice, in their power, are of the opinion that the said taxation of the said costs against the county is wholly illegal and without authority of law, and earnestly ask the Board of Supervisors to investigate and take proper action in the matter.

It has come under the observation of the Grand Jury that gambling, with all its demoralizing tendencies, and the fountain of nearly all the crimes which we have had to investigate, is carried on in our county to a fearful extent, and in violation of the expressed laws and statutes of the State, as will be seen by reference to Chapter X, Sections 330 to 336 inclusive, of Vol. 2, of the Codes, we therefore recommend to the attention of the District Attorney to take prompt and vigorous measures to suppress this evil, and to bring all offenders in this regard to condign punishment.

We have had laid before us that there exists in and around the town of Bodie a number of intolerable nuisances, for example: Bodies are interred all but in living water, if not quite so, the water percolating through the earth and entering the wells from which the inhabitants are supplied for domestic and other purposes; furthermore, the carcasses of animals are left in and around the suburbs of the town to rot and putrify, thereby poisoning the air and creating an intolerable stench, and endangering the health of all. Again, we have been complained to as regards the mode and manner in which the owners of butchers' stalls and slaughter-houses dispose of offal arising from their business; from these markets all offal, as we have been advised, are dumped broadcast into the public streets, regardless of the lives and health of the inhabitants. We, therefore, call the special attention of our District Attorney that he shall proceed to have these nuisances abated, as provided for by Sections 368 to 374 inclusive, of the Codes, Vol. 2; and, if upon notice to the owners of the markets herein before mentioned, the said owners should fail, within ten days from date thereof, to correct this evil, then the District Attorney is requested to take action against all delinquents.

Owing to the pressure of business now accumulated by the action of the Grand Jury during the present term, in our judgment it would be advisable that the District Attorney be allowed to employ assistant counsel; we, therefore, respectfully recommend to the Board of Supervisors to take action therein.

As it is made the duty of the Grand Jury to take into consideration the financial condition of the county, among various other matters imposed upon them by law, we would respectfully suggest that some plan may be devised by our Board of Supervisors, by which our county scrip may be kept up to a fair valuation. We are of the opinion that a plan might be fallen upon to place the county affairs on a cash basis, as has frequently been done in other counties, where the indebtedness was greater than ours, for in our present financial condition the county is daily a great loser. The people must be more heavily taxed than they now are, as our debt increases, and none will reap any advantage from the depression of scrip, except the speculator.

In conclusion, we desire to acknowledge our obligations to the Auditor, Treasurer, Sheriff and Tax Collector, and Assessor for their ready and willing co-operation with us in the examination of their books and accounts, and District Attorney W. O. Parker we tender cheerful thanks for his unwearied attentions upon our sessions, as well as for his efficient aid and energy in bringing offenders to justice.

J. K. DENISON, Foreman.

THE BODIE.—The S. F. Bulletin of Tuesday says: It is rumored that the Bodie Consolidated Mining Company are debating the question of erecting the largest works on the hill. An interested subscriber says that "the yield of the mine could be vastly increased if really needed or wanted." It strikes us that if increased yield means more Gold, there never was a time when it was more wanted than now, and hoisting and milling on an enlarged scale should be immediately commenced.

General Grant's party was robbed of $400 worth of jewelry, etc., at Manitou, Colorado.

BODIE CHRONICLE.

THE CHRONICLE.

BODIE, JULY 24, 1880.

A REMARKABLE FACT.—The sea birds, the pulfin, guillemot and razor bill, cannot fly over the land at all, although they can rise from the surface of the sea with equal facility, mount to an infinite hight, and fly with amazing rapidity, so long as the sea is immediately between them, but no sooner do they fly above dry ground than they drop as if shot. During a strong wind from the sea it not unfrequently happens that these birds, in mounting higher than the edge of the cliff, are suddenly blown a few yards over land, when they immediately fall, and can regain their natural element only by crawling to the edge of the precipice, when new vigor inspires them, and they at once soar away with their usual velocity.

He came into the editor's room with a large roll of manuscript under his arm, and said very politely: "I have a trifle here about the beautiful sunset yesterday, which was dashed off by a friend of mine, which I would like inserted if you have room." "Plenty of room. Just insert it yourself," replied the editor, gently pushing the waste basket towards him.—Galveston News.

John B. Gough says: "In England the intoxication among the ladies is fearful. I have seen two well-dressed young women in a first-class railway carriage draw their flasks from their pockets and drink from them, not even using cups. They go from one confectionery store to another and drink sherry until they have to go home in cabs."

The average life of a farmer is 66 years, and if he wasn't obliged to run and yell so much, getting his neighbors' cows out of his corn-field, he'd probably bring it up to 81.

"I wish you would pay a little attention to what I am saying, sir," roared a lawyer to an exasperating witness. "I am paying as little attention as I can," was the calm reply.

Americans are the most inventive race on the globe, and it seems singular that no plan for making flies stay in bed until the entire household is up has yet been patented.

When you cleave to any one you stick. When you cleave anything you cut it in two. Confound the old English language, anyhow.

Lay up something for a rainy day, if it is nothing more than the rheumatism.
